INTERCOLLEGIATE WATER GAMES (Special from United Press.) New York, March 8.—With a program consisting of 50, 100 and 250 yard races, plunge for distance, fancy diving, relay race and water polo game, swimmers from Yale and Columbia will meet in the tank of the New York A. C. tonight in the annual dual meet for the intercollegiate championship.

SCHEDULE FOR FRESHMAN GAMES (Special from United Press.) Boston, March 8.—Along with the announcement of Percy D. Haughton, as baseball coach at Harvard for the season, the athletic committee announces a completed schedule for the freshman football team. The opening game will be played with Groton at Groton on October 16 and a week later the freshmen will Andover at Andover. October 27 Exeter will be played at Exeter, the only mid-week game of the season. The final game will be with Yale Freshmen in Cambridge on November 13.

BROWER AND HAYES RACE EVEN

(By Dick Barrett.) Frank Brower, champion of New England, and Walter Hayes, champion of Connecticut, gave a two mile roller skating exhibition last night at the Park City skating rink. Hayes started with the lead and held it until the seventh lap, when Brower passed him, keeping about a foot ahead. In the eighth lap, Brower let out and passing over the line for the fifteenth lap, finishing the first mile in 3 minutes and 5 seconds. In the third lap of the second mile Hayes slipped, allowing Brower to pass him. Brower stuck to his side, and in the fourteenth lap they went around the floor like a streak of lightning and they finished the second mile in 3 minutes and 6 seconds. Thetime for the two miles was 6 minutes and 11 seconds. These boys will race next Friday night at New Haven. They expect to do some good work in the Elm City, as they did in Newark, N. J.

MURPHY GETS DECISION OVER LOCKE IN 10 ROUNDS

(Special from United Press.) Boston, March 8.—Eddie Murphy today holds a well earned decision over Kid Locke of Philadelphia, gained in 10 rounds of hard milling here last night. The referee had no difficulty in picking the winner. The bout was exceptionally fast and clean and was marked by milling from start to finish. Both proved to be hard hitters with Murphy showing up the better in science.

"SANDY" FERGUSON'S VERY LAST CHANCE

(Special from United Press.) Boston, March 8.—Sandy Ferguson's last chance to make good in the ring comes tonight when he meets Al Kaufman in a 12 round bout at the Armory A. A. If Sandy is defeated or he does not make a good showing his chances of further bouts here are slim. Should Ferguson win, and some of the wise sports are playing him to the club will at once match him with Al Kaufman, the big Californian, who is now on his way East.

BASKETBALL AT THE Y. M. C. A. FRIDAY EVENING.

Two weeks ago when the regular Friday basketball games were confined altogether to boys' teams such a marked interest was shown that it has been found necessary to again have the boys fill the entire evening's program. In the first game the Sioux will be matched against the Apaches, both of the Indian League. The Apaches play a fast game and as a result head the league. The Sioux, however, are pressing them hard and climbing steadily. A keen observer is sure to predict them soon rubbing elbows with their opponents for top notch. Another game between the T. U. S. team and the Pirates is scheduled for the same evening. The games of the last Boys' Night were Yale vs. Carlisle on the College League, and T. U. S. vs. Pennsylvania. Both games were fast and ended close, and it is certain that those who witnessed them will welcome this announcement.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Tom Stankard is out with the announcement that he does not intend going to the Denver, Col., team which drafted him from Springfield. Tom still carries his unsigned contract in his pocket and two objections in his breast. One is that he is studying medicine at Harvard and that he is so far west that it would interfere with his studies. The other reason is that the manager is not as liberal as Dan O'Neill.

Jawn Hess, the old Springfield catcher, says he won't leave the north till Nashville does better in salary promises. He refuses to sign a contract. Hess dislikes to play in Nashville. His health was poor there and he says that Harry Noyes won't like the town. Hess was drafted by Brooklyn a year ago.

The order for Paddy Sullivan to join Pittsburgh catcher, surprised Paddy was resting at his home in Windsor Locks. He was notified to join the first Pittsburgh squad immediately. He and Gibson will do the bulk of the Pittsburgh work this year if he makes good.

Manager Hanna of New Britain says he has received signed contracts from his entire squad, twenty-two men. The new uniforms, which have already arrived, are navy blue with white stockings and caps.

Pitcher Quinn, one of the New York American recruits, has a new cure that he is exploiting at Macon. He declines to give a detailed description of it to the world, but has promised to teach it to Pete Wilson, if it makes good. Quinn calls it the "rod-buster."

Pete Wilson, the Hartford flinger, is a big favorite with Stallings. According to the Big Chief, Wilson has improved wonderfully since his arrival on the Stallings plantation at Had-docks on Feb. 18. In talking of Wilson's chances Stallings said: "When Pete reached the farm he looked like 5 cents; now he looks as big as a million dollars." With this brand of talk it looks as if Pete was cookey of a regular job!

New Haven, March 8.—George M. Cameron, owner of the New Haven baseball team, writes from Florida about pooling holiday receipts in the Connecticut League as follows: "I do not really think that anything should be done to strengthen the weaker teams, but the best plan to pursue is too hard for me to figure out, and I wrote O'Rourke to that effect. While I realized something should be done I wasn't in a position to know what plan was best for the Connecticut League, and I wrote to O'Rourke, knowing that he has had years of experience and naturally the best wishes of the interests of the league at stake to my proxy."

"Later, when I read that Manager Bone was to attend the meeting I asked him to use his judgment, but to consult with O'Rourke and not to forget that we must sacrifice our own interests to a certain extent, for the betterment of the Connecticut League at large, but Mr. Bone didn't attend. I don't like to see the transfer of teams every year on account of their not paying, as it hurts baseball, but I am not certain what the best plan is to inaugurate for the welfare of the league, but I want to be fair to all."

Any one who reads the above letter from Mr. Cameron won't have hard work to see why his opinions have been listened to by the other club managers so intently, although he has been one of the league directors less than a year. He has tried to be fair to every club in the league and to make the league as solid and stable as possible.

LOST EVERYTHING THROUGH BOARDER

Detective Cronan yesterday unearthed at least one channel through which the metals stolen from the Bridgeport Brass Company were marketed. This fence was Catherine Cheerle, wife of Thomas Cheerle, who lived at 170 Willard street. Tony Manzek, a boarder with the Cheerles, was the third party. All three were arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Cronan and Patrolman Simon. The three had a smoothly operating system by which the Brass Company was robbed systematically. The men worked in the Brass shop. They passed the bars of copper out of the window and then to the Cheerle homestead by devious ways. The woman then took charge of the lot and sold it to second hand metal dealers.

Yesterday about 130 pounds of the metal was recovered. It had been sold by Mrs. Cheerle to different dealers in old metals. The metal recovered represents only a small portion which has been stolen from the works during the past year. The officials are obliged to maintain a continual watch to prevent robbery.

In the City court this morning Cheerle and Manzek were each fined $9 and costs. The woman was fined $1 and costs. Cheerle finds himself in a desolate position on account of his connection with Manzek. The latter boarded with Cheerle and became very friendly with the wife. It is believed that the woman disposed of the ill-gotten gains of Manzek long before her husband was engaged in the thefts. Cheerle now finds himself alone in the world, having lost his position and his wife through the machinations of the boarder.

MEN'S LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

At a meeting of the men of the First Congregational church last evening a Men's League was organized and the following officers were elected: President, Richard G. Demarest; vice president, Dudley P. Bullard; secretary, Dr. Arthur M. Hunter; treasurer, Robert S. Hincks; executive committee, the chairman of committees with the president and Rev. John DePau. The chairman of the various committees were chosen as follows: Membership, Dr. N. E. Wordin; finance, W. T. Hincks; welcome, Henry W. Hincks; outlook, Willis B. West; press, Dr. H. Stevens; visiting, Everett H. White; entertainment, Prof. H. D. Simonds. The league will meet the second Monday of each month. Debates on the important questions of the day will take place between the members. It is the intention of the committee to have speakers, both local and out of town, to address the meetings both on religious and political matters.

A GLOOMY FORECAST.

To the Editor of The Courant:—With this disturbance to take place as follows: From the 15th to the 23d of the present month there will be a very general disturbance of the atmosphere, probably to be felt on the two continents. It will be of great force, will be accompanied with a tidal wave. A tidal wave does not always reach the coast; often its great force is confined to the wide space of ocean. Mariners along the coast should be on the lookout. The earth is now in the extremum of the quake orbit. There is not much danger to be feared. There may be a slight tremor.

Yours,
HORACE JOHNSON.
